

Journal Cover Contest

Do you have a perfect cover photo?

Do you have a picture that would make a great spring cover? Or a beautiful winter photo of your tree farm? In 2023, the GLCTJ would like to feature our readers photos on the cover of each journal issue throughout the year. With four journal issues and a member directory, that makes five chances for your picture to be selected.

Want to share your photo and enter the contest? If so, download your pictures (you can enter multiple pictures) and one or more of your photos might be selected as the next cover photo. Keep in mind, pictures need to be large and of high resolution.

To enter photos, uploaded pictures to the GLCTJ cover contest Dropbox folder:
